

See your healthcare provider if:

•You have any itching or pain, which associated with this problem•You are losing hair at an early age or very rapidly (in twenties age or in your teens). •You have facial hair,menstrual irregularities or acne. •The skin on your scalp under the involved area is scaly,red, or other problem with your skin on your scalp. •You are losing hair in an atypical pattern. • You have male pattern baldness, but you are a woman . •You have bald spots on your eyebrows or beard . •You have muscle weakness, fatigue, intolerance to cold temperatures or have been gaining weight .